Hall of SHAME

The Timothy Plan® is a family of mutual funds designed to help investors own morally clean portfolios. By screening out (avoiding to own) companies involved in activities contributing to the moral decline of America, the Timothy Plan® is committed to keeping its portfolios morally responsible.

As a way to share some of its research and give investors a glimpse into corporate responsibility, they have compiled this list of 30 corporations earning the "Hall of Shame" award. This list is only a small representation of the companies the Timothy Plan® takes pride in avoiding when selecting which securities to add to its portfolio. Traditional family values are what make the Timothy Plan® stand out from other investment opportunities. The criteria used in the research process is solely from a conservative Christian view, for more information regarding the screens used, please visit www.timothyplan.com, or simply [Click Here].

If you currently own mutual funds, you are encouraged to contact your financial consultant or the Timothy Plan® directly to have them morally audited by eVALUEator®.

Moral Screening

The Timothy Plan is committed to maintaining portfolios that only contain securities that are not actively contributing to the moral decline of our society. If you believe that one of our holdings is violating any of the following screens, please contact us.

Total Violating Companies:	776[^]

Data as of March 25, 2010.

*A company may have multiple violations for each screen, as well as violate multiple screens. The total number represents all violations by each company. For example: if a company is a pornographic producer and distributor, the number of violations for pornography would equal two.

[^]Total Violating Companies represents U.S. traded securities or foreign securities traded in the U.S. as an ADR (American Depository Receipt).

To the best of our knowledge, the Timothy Plan is the only fund in existence that takes a ZERO TOLERANCE stand in moral screening!
